ASA Electronics® Launches Dedicated iN•Command Website

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ELKHART, IN. – ASA Electronics is continuing to expand their iN•Command Control Systems brand with a dedicated website, iN-Command.net. The site functions as a comprehensive hub of information for the various iN•Command systems and features.

“iN•Command has already grown so much in just the first three years, and it’s only going to continue to grow. We wanted to make sure that there was a one-stop-shop for everyone to learn about our systems, and I think this website does a really great job of getting the information out there,” said Jim Hess, Vice President of ASA Electronics’ RV Division.

iN-Command.net will be a valuable resource for RV owners and dealers alike, featuring detailed descriptions of the different systems as well as owners’ manuals, quick reference guides, and system overview videos. By making all of this information easily accessible to end users, RVers can make more informed buying decisions. Having this information just a few clicks away will also prove to be a great sales tool for RV dealers to familiarize themselves with this growing product line.

The site also features growing lists of iN•Command partners and RVs currently using iN•Command Control Systems.
