ASA Electronics Introduces New JENSEN JWM90A Wall Mount Stereo

ELKHART, IN.— ASA Electronics continues to provide the latest in top-of-the-line stereo technology for the RV industry with the JWM90A Bluetooth® Wall Mount Stereo. This newest addition to the JENSEN® line of stereos is designed to bring the home entertainment experience to the great outdoors with more than three times the power of a traditional wall mount stereo. The JWM90A packs a whopping 160 watts into a sleek, smooth package.

The JWM90A is App Ready, letting users control all the primary functions of their new stereo with jControl. This free app from JENSEN turns any Android or iOS device into the ultimate wireless remote. This high-tech stereo has three speaker zones and offers dual source audio control, like having two stereos in one. RV owners can watch a DVD in their living room while simultaneously streaming their favorite music via Bluetooth in another zone. The JWM90A is engineered to maximize sound with eight speaker outputs and a subwoofer output.

This new, high-end stereo utilizes Bluetooth technology to stream audio from Bluetooth-enabled devices. The JWM90A also features an Apple-compatible USB port that will charge iPhones as well as Android phones. It's not just about the audio, the JWM90A has two video outputs (one HDMI, one RCA), and a DVD player outfitted with JCOM. JCOM, the proprietary communication protocol for JENSEN, allows the JWM90A to communicate directly with any JENSEN JCOM enabled TV. This feature can automatically detect when a DVD is inserted into the player and change the input source of the TV for ease of use. For added entertainment value, the HDMI input is located on the face of the stereo, allowing the user to easily plug in additional devices like an Amazon Fire TV Stick or Google Chromecast.
